before we, the class of 1960, leave lenoir rhyne's campus, we must stop to inspect the changes made during our stay here. four years have passed; four years which have been the continuation of a development project begun ten years ago. during the fifties, the face of lenoir rhyne has changed. new buildings have sprung up on spots which were once merely the crossroads of cross-campus paths; new faces have come and gone; a new style of campus government has been proposed—a government which can one day be a governing of students by students. we have watched this with interest and participation. now as we leave at the end of one decade and the beginning of another, we review this decade of change, considering its present worth and what it will mean to future graduation classes.

but this is lenoir rhyne 1960—a year in which we have strived and worked for the realization of the ideas and plans rooted in the past years.

growth was the keynote of 1960. we were growing with a specific purpose in mind, for this sixth decade of the twentieth century had special meaning for us. sixty years stained with war have passed; forty years of possible peace lie ahead, and for this we were working. within us there was a certain feeling; there was the realization that this year was not just another year—we were standing at the beginning of a new era. we were standing at the

president's message

in the years ahead when you speak of lenoir rhyme as your alma mater, may it be indicative of the attachment and devotion implicit in this term which literally means "fostering mother." the paramount purpose of the college is to foster, encourage and assist each student in the full attainment of his potential for growth and service; realizing the process has only begun, your alma mater follows you into the future with high confidence and expectation.

may your nacwxa, having recorded some of the associations, activities, and achievements of college days, serve to strengthen the ties with alma mater and with all who have walked together within her halls, campus and walls.

lenoir rhyne students met new challenges and responsibilities this year as complete student government was put into operation for the first time. student government has as its base the students themselves. they both nominate and elect their student body officers and representatives to the student cabinet. resident men and women elect the hall commission whose duty it is to enforce rules of conduct among dormitory students. the day commission performs a similar function among the commuting students. the student court, the highest student judicial body, is composed of the student body officers and one cabinet representative of each class. student government seeks to perpetuate high standards of conduct, to protect the rights of each student, and to maintain an atmosphere suitable for diligent study and wholesome social activity. a total of 66 men and women held various student government positions this year. their actions during the period when student government was in its infancy were characterized by boldness in order that the constitution might be effectively enforced and by caution in order that a solid foundation might be provided for the future.

the student cabinet is that group of elected representatives of the student body which is vested with ultimate authority in matters governing student organizations.

the cabinet is the voice of the student body, concerned with the welfare of all students . . . full-time and part-time, resident and commuting.

student court

the student court is the highest judicial body of student government. through the court the students discipline and judge themselves. in assuming the responsibility of a court system, lenoir rhyne men and women show themselves to be mature young adults. the student court exemplifies true student government at lenoir rhyne.

the day commission is the governing body for day students at lenoir rhyme as is the hall commission for dormitory students. the day commission is made up of the day student membership of student cabinet. through the day commission day students are encouraged to become an integral part of lenoir rhyme and to benefit from her every opportunity.

student publications committee

the committee on student publications accepts the candidates for nominations and considers the required academic standing for editor and business manager of all student publications. the committee is also responsible for the existing student publications and evaluates the need for additional publications. problems encountered by the publication staffs are brought to the committee for discussion and solution. the committee on student publications is comprised of the heads of the student publications, the president of the student body, the president of iota epsilon omega journalistic fraternity, the college business manager, the dean of students, and a faculty representative from the english department.

from summer sophistication to autumn bewilderment, the freshman class, so lately of the privileged, enter lenoir rhyme with the whimsical fancies of adolescence left behind, and an outwardly cocksure presence of mind that rapidly disappears in the orientation and registration rush. lecture courses bring about the necessity of re-learning the method of learning, and hardly has this lesson sunk in when the dreaded quarters take their tolls of high spirits. christmas holidays bring the welcome return to the bosom of the family, and the first realization of being a college student as separated friends compare notes on college curriculums, new friends, variances in dorm living.

then comes the back-to-campus migration and the unbelievable feeling of being a part of things. diffidence begins to disappear, and he can't wait to get back. semester exams may dissipate this the lenoir

the trials and tribulations of publishing a weekly campus newspaper can be truly known to only those students who live with the lenoir rhymean. a flair for journalism and the desire to be creative keep this group alive to it's tasks.

the weekly cycle of getting assignments, seeking the news, composing articles to convey this news, getting pictures, making up the paper, and finally seeing the finished product on friday afternoon is well-known to the staff.

what to do when stories do not come in, when pictures fail to print, when copy runs short, when the linotype breaks —all these situations have been competently handled by elaine in her efforts to get the job accomplished.

this year with the paper holds memories of . . . a change to more modern print and layout . . . the editor's endeavors to give full coverage to every aspect of college life . . . the reporters' efforts to get the big stories . . . emil's enthusiasm for covering the bears . . . barbara's task to correct copy mistakes . . . john's ability to get sufficient ads . . . fred's responsibilities of getting the papers to the students . . . everyone's enjoyment of furdwell and curiosity concerning the personality of nimbus.

whatever the name—journalism, publishing the paper, or a "nose for news"—those involved in its production know it as the lenoir rhynean for a greater lenoir rhyne.

when it comes to evaluating the HACAWA or telling how hard its staff members worked all year, this book will have to speak for itself.

we cannot say the HACAWA developed through lighthearted gatherings in the slop shop; but we do not regret the nights spent nor the time involved in writing and revising. many times the staff did not only have to fight deadlines; they had to battle the elements as well. it is good to feel we have worked hard, that we have perhaps come closer to our goals. every effort has been made to make the 1960 HACAWA a book for the students and a credit to lenoir rhyne. only the end product and its reception by the student body can really be the proof of the staff's success.

we feel that this yearbook is more than just a publication. it is a chest of memories and your own individual account of the eventful year in which l. r. was taking tremendous steps toward large scale expansion and progress.

symbolizing oneness in christ, the religious council unites representatives of all religious organizations on campus and coordinates these groups' activities. through this body, the student is challenged to strengthen and maintain in his total life the christian principles and ideals upon which lenoir rhyne was founded.

the religious council sponsors monthly student services, which offer various means of worship as well as train students for leadership roles in the church. the j. c. cansler memorial fund makes possible the faith and life series, which brings to the college outstanding theologians who probe the central issues of the christian faith. helping others who are less fortunate is possible through the council's campus chest drive.

christian service and fellowship are the two aims of diakonian fellowship, a campus organization for men.

providing student leaders for chapel on wednesday mornings and joining the ywca to sponsor caroling at christmas are examples of diakonian service to the campus community. many members supply churches in the area as student pastors and as sunday school teachers.

fellowship with others who plan to enter the ministry or other church occupations is another facet of christian growth and expression through this organization.

fred hintze is this year's president, who serves along with gene beck, vice president, and bill hoffner, secretary. delwin curtis is treasurer, and phil deese, chaplain.

y w c a working to promote christian experiences in fellowship and group living is the young women's christian association. affiliated with the national ywca, this organization meets bi-monthly for programs of personal, community, or national interest.

contributions of ywca members to student life include big sister-little sister correspondence and a get-together during freshmen orientation, being co-sponsors with diakonian fellowship for christmas caroling, and helping needy families through gifts of food and clothing.

religious groups

Lutheran student association

affiliated with the Lutheran Student Association of America, which is composed of various Lutheran bodies, Lenoir Rhyne's LSA group participates in local, district, and regional activities for Lutheran students. Meeting each week in the college church for worship, fellowship, and study of pertinent issues, members of LSA seek to strengthen their personal lives through spiritual growth and understanding. President, Gene Beck; Vice President, Gary Safrit; Secretary, Brenda Mayer; Treasurer, Marilyn Bopp; "Frontiers" Chairman, Linda Jo Sloop are this year's officers.

first row: Hastings, Sloop, Conrad, Beck, Mayer, Icenhour, Karriker, Whittecar. second row: Nichols, Bozeman, Bowman, Miller, Thornburg, Smith, Carter, Cress, Counts, Dr. Hook.

Methodist student movement

While the Methodist student is away from his home church, the Methodist Student Movement helps to provide him with opportunities for service and participation in church functions. Worship, study, and fellowship are the basic components of MSM, which meets bi-monthly.

Cliff Roach is president, with Ginger Abernathy as vice president, and Tommy Sigmon, secretary-treasurer. Dr. Blackburn and Mr. Shuford serve as advisors to the group.

first row: Eaker, Sigmon, Roach. second row: Zimmerman, Abernethy, Foster, Triplett.

Baptist student union

The Baptist Student Union functions as a link between the home congregations of Lenoir Rhyne's Baptist students and the First Baptist Church of Hickory, which sponsors the group. Through its regular meetings, this organization fosters Christian education and encourages church attendance. Representatives attend conferences, retreats, and state conventions throughout the year.

Ned Gardner serves the union as president, with Hyldrith Bolch as vice president, and Doris Troutman, secretary-treasurer.

Canterbury association

Meeting off-campus each Sunday evening at Hickory's Church of the Ascension is the Canterbury Association, a religious group for college students sponsored by the Episcopal Church. Round-table discussions stress such topics as worship, stewardship, evangelism, ecumenical relations, and communications. An organization primarily for fellowship and study, membership in Canterbury is open to students of all denominations. Alex Viola serves as president this year.

kappa sigma kappa kappa sigma kappa became lenoir rhyne's first national fraternity in the fall of 1950. the ksk code of conduct contains obligations for the brothers to reflect the human qualities which the fraternity holds paramount—integrity, loyalty, social poise, physical fitness, and leadership.

the brothers of kappa sigma kappa value the memories of 1959-1960 . . . building the homecoming float, "sweeping to victory" . . . rebecca reid carrying the chapter sweetheart honors . . . the rush party with the pledge class of 1959-1960 . . . the many parties at the brothers' homes . . . helping a needy family at christmas . . . the christmas banquet . . . a new faculty advisor, dr. smith . . . intramural basketball . . . pledge training . . . initiation.

sigma phi epsilon

sigma phi epsilon was founded nationally at the university of richmond in 1901 and the local chapter was established in 1953. the official flower is the american beauty rose and the official colors are red and purple.

sigma phi epsilon, a fraternity devoted to high ideals and unselfish endeavor, had a year of success under the leadership of kirby beam.

"sig ep sweetheart" janice carpenter became "homecoming queen" . . . sig ep and sphinx faculty tea . . . great pledge class . . . orphanage party . . . fish dinner . . . get-together . . . serenade at w.c.u.n.c. . . . intramural victories . . . long hours of work on the float . . . mass jewelry auction . . . sig ep ball. these events plus many more when totaled mean a great school year for sigma phi epsilon.

as another chapter of sigma phi epsilon history at l. r. is completed, it must be noted that the brothers of sigma phi epsilon will strive even harder in their never-ending search for the ideal college life.

tau kappa epsilon

"as fraters in the bond, we pledge our lasting loyalty to our beloved fraternity, tau kappa epsilon."

guided by charity, esteem, and love, the three cardinal principles of tke, the tekes of delta iota worked together for a great year.

there is much to remember. the teke sweetheart, may lynn lutz . . . the faculty greeks, fraters heyman, keasey, and our advisor, dr. grier . . . prexy "humphrey" leonhardt, a leader who carried weight for the tekes . . . two all-americans, sanders and lage . . . a pledge class of 38 . . . the smoker . . . outings . . . a homecoming float that took second place . . . christmas caroling with the thetas . . . selling football programs and bear car tags . . . gary snider's birthday parties.

"alma mater first: theta chi for alma mater."

this is the motto for the brothers of delta chi chapter of theta chi fraternity. our goal is to find the ideals of brotherhood through participation in college and fraternal activities.

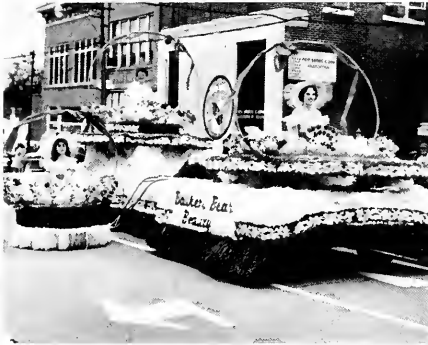

theta chi men believe that their constant aim should be to do all that they are able, collectively and individually, to strengthen the moral, spiritual, and social development of their fellow brothers and themselves.

for the third straight year the theta chi brothers won first place for the most beautiful fraternity float in the annual homecoming parade, featuring "baskets bear beauty" and also sponsoring miss north carolina, judy klipfiel.

other memorable moments included . . . theta chi sweetheart, leta kendall . . . winning the highest scholastic average award, given by the dean of students . . . sponsoring a buffet supper for alumni, parents, and brothers with miss n. c. as special guest . . . bus trips to charlotte and the nsc tournament . . . outings, mixed and stag . . . spring banquet . . . new advisor, pappy hamilton . . . intramural football champions . . . theta chi regional presidents' conference held at lenoir rhyne . . . serenades . . . all memories of a theta chi year to remember.

the intersorority council, established this year for the perpetuation of understanding and good fellowship among the sororities on the campus, is composed of the presidents and two elected representatives of each sorority.

the council dictates policies concerning "rush week" and the pledge period. the group also sponsors may day activities and the may day dance. disputes between the member organizations are mediated by the council.

the purpose of the interfraternity council is to promote the general welfare and interests of the associated fraternities, and to insure co-operation between them in their relations with the faculty, student body, and the general public. the council is made up of three members from each of the four fraternities.

transient visitor to the ivy-covered walls, the commercial student must adjust to college living more quickly than other collegiates. into one short year he must cram the experiences that others have four years to enjoy. the commercial student has already set his goal. he has no time to linger in sentiment. now and here are the key-words to his sojourn. yet even he has the time to contribute to the campus. his purpose and accentuated busyness are examples to others. when his contemporaries complete their education, he will have been three years in his business field.

'fifty-nine bears

lenoir rhyne 15, wofford 8

lenoir rhyne, not finding its power till the second half, downed surprisingly strong wofford, 15-8, in its football opener. trailing 8-0 at the half, lenoir rhyne tallied twice in the last two periods when sophomore mcclamrock passed to wingback foster for one, and then plunged one yard for the other. mcclamrock also scored two more points on a two point conversion. this made the sixth straight opening game victory for the perennial north state champion bears.

lenoir rhyne 28, newberry 14

newberry battled on even terms with the bears during the first half, but fell to a second half comeback by lenoir rhyne, as the bruins captured their second win. lee farmer, tommy simmons, dick lage, and ronnie frye figured in a potent lenoir rhyne scoring attack as all scored touchdowns in the victory. farmer in addition to his touchdown, also was a nemesis to the indians via the air route as he passed to lage for a td.

lenoir rhyne 29, appalachian 6 unbeaten lenoir rhyne struck the previously unbeaten apps on their field to keep its own slate clean with a 29-6 victory. tailback lee farmer scored twice to lead what proved a surprising rout for the bruins. the talented tailback also passed to dickie foster for another score. tony mcclamrock tallied the other six-pointer. with this win the bruins opened defense of the north state conference championship as they tried for their fifth straight title.

lenoir rhyne 46, guilford 19

lenoir rhyne remained in the unbeaten ranks and climbed to first place in the north state conference with a rousing 46-19 triumph over guilford. sophomore marcus midgett's 95-yard touchdown gallop and tony mcclamrock's three touchdown passes highlighted the victory. the offense-minded bears amassed 559 yards to overshadow a leaky defense.

lenoir rhyne 28, western carolina 7 tailback lee farmer scoring two touchdowns and passing for two more led lenoir rhyne to its fourth straight victory, in an all important north state conference struggle. lenoir rhyne completely dominated the game against the title-hopeful catamounts who seemed the last major obstacle in the path to a fifth straight conference title.

lenoir rhyne 68, maryville 0 lenoir rhyne, ranked second in the nation among the nation's small colleges, ripped maryville from every angle and routed the highlanders, 68-0. sophomore tony mcclamrock scored three touchdowns in the one-sided triumph over the outmanned opposition from tennessee, and wingback dickie foster returned a punt 55 yards for a touchdown and then galloped 81 yards with a kick-off return for a pair of six pointers. the bruins scored four times in the first period and then the reserves replaced the first team to head the rout, and lead the bears to their sixth straight win of the season.

lenoir rhyme 22, east carolina 21

having attained the rank of the nation's number one small college football team, lenoir rhyme survived its greatest scare of the season with a comeback victory over east carolina in the waning minutes. tailback lee farmer, surging toward all-american honors, scored a touchdown with 21 seconds left and then miraculously threw to wingback marcus midgett for a two point conversion and the margin of victory with two tacklers hanging on his shoulders. the win was the seventh straight of the season and the bears fourth in the conference.

lenoir rhyme 50, elon 15

lenoir rhyme retained their top ranking as lee farmer scored four touchdowns on runs of 6, 46, 38, and 51 yards. the classy tailback paced the bear's brilliant attack and guided them to their eighth straight win of the season. richard kemp, o'dell white and tony mcclamrock also scored for the rampant bears.

lenoir rhyme 50, catawba 6 lenoir rhyme climaxed an unbeaten 9-0 season with a 50-6 romp past catawba and handed coach clarence stasavich his 100th victory since coming to lenoir rhyme in 1946. the bears ground out 558 total yards and were never in trouble after tolling up a 20-0 first quarter lead over the indians. blocking back adam maples scored two touchdowns on passes from tailback lee farmer. the win gave lenoir rhyme an unprecedented fifth straight north state conference championship.

lenoir rhyme 47, southern connecticut 20 lenoir rhyme entered its first national association of intercollegiate athletics playoff and won the eastern championship, 46-20. scoring four touchdowns in the first period, the bears had no trouble winning their way to the holiday bowl in st. petersburg, florida. wingback dickie foster scored twice on passes of 5 and 52 yards to lead a seven touchdown lenoir rhyme attack.

texas a&i 20, lenoir rhyme 7 in the holiday bowl at st. petersburg, florida, texas a&i whacked lenoir rhyme 20-7 to hand the bears their first loss in 19 games. texas, ranked fifth in the naia grid poll, used three long passes to catch the top-ranked bears by surprise. end dick lage scored lenoir rhyme's td on a 25-yard pass from tony mcclamrock.

the lenoir rhyne bears, coached by bill wells, ended the regular season with the nsc championship for the third time in four years.

this year's team set a school rebounding record. it finished second in the nation among small colleges in rebounds, according to the national collegiate bureau of statistics. l.r.'s rebounding average, 51.2 per game, was top in district 26.

one of the biggest games of the year, according to coach wells, was our win over high point. in this game l.r. hit 26 free throws in a row before missing. the bears made 30 of 33 for the game for 91 per cent, the high percentage of the year in the nsc. senior ken norman was high scorer for the evening with 27 points.

norman was big man for the bears, with 378 rebounds for the season, and 567 points. he averaged 18.9 points per game. bill reece, captain, had a total point average of 13.5.

freshman bears are to be commended for their fine performance, standouts, says coach wells, are jerry wells and emil dixon scoring an average of 4.8 and 5.0 points per game, respectively.

the team as a whole averaged 71.7 points per game, and 51.2 rebounds. finishing the season with a north state conference record 12-4, and an overall record of 18-12. this leaves coach bill wells with a three year record of 66 wins and 22 losses.

larry havington (44) towers above the indian guard to make two in the victory over catawba 64-57.

eddie goodnight, l. r. bear guard, sinks 2 more to obtain the lead in shooting percentage with a tremendous 75% average, against the cagers from atlantic christian college.

bill reece, l. r. bear captain, sparked the victory over a.c.c. by adding 2 more, at this time l. r. "the nation's number one rebounding team" found an easy victory over a. c. c. 59-34.

norman, ladd, and bowman watch as l. r. bear stomps crusader, norman was high with 16, blazing the bears to a 12-6 lead after only 7 minutes of play.

joe ladd, l. r. bear center, again makes good his winning jump shot against catawba. goodnight, bear forward and high scorer with 21, looks on.

along with the regular spring sports, I. R. C. has received track, in the first meet of the season, the bears lost a close decision to high point at high point on april 22. charles sanders scored ten points, followed by harlan bowman's eight, and dick karriker's six.

i n t r a m u r a l s

never before has the interest and enthusiasm which was observed this year been seen in intramural sports. for the first time highland hall was crowned "overall champs." they also walked away with other titles, among them, the football championship and the softball championship. this is the first time in the history of I. R. C. that a dormitory has been "overall champs." tau kappa epsilon fraternity came in a close second place by taking the basketball, volleyball, and ping pong championship. sigma phi epsilon fraternity captured the tennis championship.

on the golf scene, I. R. was very much in the running for a second straight conference championship in 1959. at press time the bear golfers owned an 8-1-1 record. teddy garrison, a day student, was our number one man.

other members of the team include adam maples, boby mclean, bobby thomas, thad mullis, bob bloh, and mike brunner.

women's intramurals

the women's athletic association offers every girl at lenoir rhyne a chance to participate in varied sports during the year.

through the guidance of dr. clyde deans and the able assistance of mrs. jim hamilton, the facilities of cline gymnasium, the waa is achieving a better variety of activities.

during the year many intramural programs have been successfully carried out by the waa. volleyball was the first endeavor. mauney hall won the volleyball tournament with a clean record of 7-0. approximately one hundred girls entered the competition.

archery was the next activity with sphinx sorority winning first place. there were about thirty-five girls in the tournament and the top right archers were "ike" schell, "bobbie" walker, jean rollins, helgi kuuskraa, paulette hoke, pat slane, kathy megiever, and jane pope.

approximately one hundred girls took part in the basketball intramurals. further activities of the year were badminton, table tennis, and softball.

at the end of the year awards were made to individuals and a team winner was declared.

the aim of the waa is to encourage all to participate in sports and to develop them physically, mentally, emotionally, and socially.

not facing the unknown, but returning to a familiar situation, the sophomore reaches lenoir rhyme in september definitely changed. bubbling, imperturbable, prepared by three months relaxation for the expected rigors of another nine months grind, the sophomore smiles knowingly as beanies flit by, remembering his recent trepidation. old haunts are revisited, old friends congregate to discuss old times—for these are the self-acknowledged ancients of the campus. often the "slop shop" attracts these world-weary more than classes, which have become, for the moment, secondary in importance.

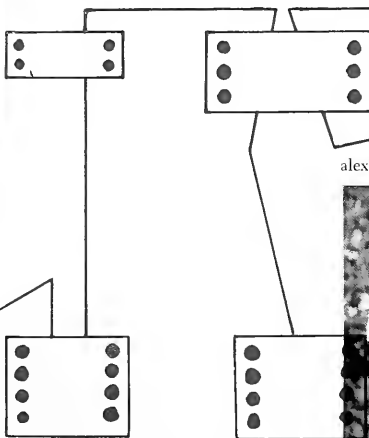

this too passes, and the sophomore usually awakens to a sense of purpose which in infant form can't yet withstand the fascinating calls of "let's go . . ." and "what if we . . ." but from the vacillations and vagaries of these pseudo-adults come a wealth of ideas and intentions which are unlikely to be realized this year, but which will crystalize to make the leaders of the next.

half-way mark. men and women with a purpose return to campus—the juniors. majors are decided upon and a goal has been set that will be reached a year from June. though being away from college and independent is omnipresent in the junior's mind, it is still a vague reality that needn't yet be brightened and concentrated upon. besides, there's too much work to be done.

capabilities before masked with indecision and procrastination are now cultivated, groomed and used. the junior class production, the junior-senior banquet, full-swing activities, the junior is an integrated whole in the fullness of his academic career. at no other time will he be this assured, this well-placed in his selected society. he has earned his position of trust by gradually maturing in the past two years. it will take more time to brush off the rosin of third-year security and topple him once again to worry. just now he is in his element; he has purpose, responsibility. now more than any other time he is building his future personality.

seniors—the elite by virtue of past performance and future expectations, still giving to campus life, now through experience being able to guide the ones who will fill their shoes. theirs is the right to comment on the goods and ills of lenoir rhyne, to suggest, to work for change, to advise, for they have run the gamut of insecurity, flightiness, responsibility, and emerged with a diploma in one hand and a taste for the adult, wage-earning world, in them rests the hope of instructors, administration, classmates, parents—for they are the finished product of the institution, facing with a bland expression and a quantity of wisdom acquired during their stay whatever the future may hold.

but what means the covert trembling, the worried expressions? a natural reaction. once again they move from the known to the unknown. once again they must make their mark, and on a larger scroll than lenoir rhyne, but the fears are well-covered; few will know they exist. insecurities are masked by supreme self-confidence, and the world is theirs to conquer.
